A Roll Call for Saints: Wednesday, May 8th at 5:30 pm

We will be offering a one-time class on Christian Saints in European Art History on May 8th, taught by Roz Hoagland. Roz is a longtime BUMC member and a retired art history professor who taught at NVCC for 40 years. She continues to lead art and architecture tours to Europe several times a year. The class will focus on how artists developed formulas for portraying important saints. Often, they were shown with the instruments of their martyrdom. We'll take a look at those saints most often illustrated and decode how to identify them when you walk through an art museum. A salad bar and water/lemonade will be provided at this event.
